Answer two questions.

1. "To Italy, at last" - What lasting beneficial consequences did his Italian Journey have for Goethe?
2. Goethe had hoped to be reborn through his Italian experience. Were his hopes fulfilled?
3. Retrace Goethe's journey through Italy and comment on some of the highlights he experiences on his Italienische Reise.
4. "The law and the prophets are now fulfilled, and for the rest of my life I shall be left in peace by the Roman ghosts." Do you think Goethe's dominant feeling was one of relief?
